Heart Attack Fatal to A. M. Hutchinson, 70, Early Today.

A heart attack proved fatal to Abner Martin Hutchinson, 70, retired Erie railroad baggage agent, today at 4 a. m. at his home at 149 Sargent street. He was ill only 24 hours.

Mr. Hutchinson retired on July 14 this year, because of failing health, after 47 years and nine months with the Erie. He was hired as a brakeman on the Marion division between Marion and Chicago, on Sept. 20, 1889, and on March 29 of the next year was promoted to passenger brakeman. His promotion to train baggage agent was made on July 2, 1931, before entering the service of the railroad.

He taught school in Indiana for two years. Surviving Mr. Hutchinson are his widow, Mrs. Jeanette Lammert Hutchinson, a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Murray of Chicago, a sister, Mrs. Harry Merdith of Chicago, and three brothers, Vinton of Chicago, William of Hammond, Ind., and James of Rochester, Ind.

Mr. Hutchinson was born March 20, 1867, in Kosciusko county, Ind., son of Dorcas Hutchinson, who was born in New Haven, O., and Caroline Burns Hutchinson, a native of Indiana. His marriage to Miss Lammert took place on Nov. 20, 1907, in Marion.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, No. 25, and the Chicago and Erie Veterans' association.

Friends may view the body at the Schaffner-Dwyer Co. funeral home on East Center street.

FIREMEN'S SALARY ON COUNCIL PROGRAM

Conflicting Figures Likely To Be Compared by Officials Tonight.

Conflicting figures over the financial position of the city, developed in the efforts of city firemen to have their full salaries restored, probably will be compared and analyzed at a regular meeting of council tonight.

The firemen have indicated they will ask George T. Geran, attorney retained by them to make a financial study of the city's operating accounts, to appear before council to discuss the subject of the city's ability to make the salary restoration.

Mr. Geran's study showed a surplus of $23,052.50 in city accounts whereas Mayor Smith previously had informed the firemen there was a deficit of $33,334.

Other matters which may come up tonight, officials said, are correction of the zoning ordinance to prohibit operation of groceries in city of a residence property and action on a proposal to place waste containers on uptown curbs. The city recently lost a zoning ordinance case against a Marion man who used part of his residence for a grocery.

Mr. Switzer was born Jan. 3, 1874, in Hagerstown, Md., to Mr. and Mrs. Theodora Switzer.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elva Marie Switzer, two brothers and a sister.

Robert Shively, 19, Injured as Car Hits Pole at Columbia and Blaine.

Robert Shively, 19, of Green Camp, suffered face and scalp lacerations, in an accident last night shortly after 5 o'clock on West Columbia street near the intersection of Blaine avenue, according to a police report. The youth was treated at the Frederick C. Smith clinic and released.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Mrs. Myra Longnecker of Green Camp. Police said Mrs. Longnecker, who was eastbound, was attempting to pass a truck traveling the same direction. As the truck turned left at Blaine avenue, Mrs. Longnecker swerved her car to avoid it and struck an electric light pole on the north side of the street.

Mrs. Longnecker escaped with minor bruises. Her car was damaged considerably about the front end and was taken to a garage in Green Camp. The truck, police said, did not stop after the accident. Shively was taken to the Smith clinic in a taxi cab which was near the scene at the time.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COFFLAND

Child's Teeth

Recently I pointed out the advantages of the summer months for checking up on your child's health. It is an opportune time for the correction of any physical defects the surgeon may have. If there are any defects, they are attended to in the summer so that the child will be in the best of health for the school year.

Today, I want to urge the importance of having a thorough examination by the dentist. If he finds any defects, he will correct them before they become a problem.

In many cases, a child's teeth are not properly aligned. This can be corrected by a dentist. The dentist will use a special appliance to move the teeth into their proper position.

It is important to have your child's teeth checked regularly. This will help to prevent any future dental problems. The dentist will also clean the teeth and apply a fluoride treatment.

Children's teeth are very important. They are the foundation for a healthy smile. It is important to take care of them from the very beginning.

Regular dental checkups are essential for your child's oral health. This will help to ensure that their teeth are in the best of health for many years to come.

Marion Team To Play Four Home Games in Six Days

Fall Through Ropes Ends Mat Tilt for Ring Giant

Boston baby blimp 235-pound Martin Levy after attracting a capacity audience to the weekly meeting of wrestling fans at Marion Stadium, Monday night, fell through the ropes and landed on the floor of the ring after but four minutes in the ring against a masked grappler known only as "The Spook." The human Leviathan in his eagerness to charge to a opponent with a body that rolled through the ropes and hit the floor at the time he was wrestling the Spook, but the Spook was weak and Levy had just 6.5 reasons why he couldn't hit his fired and weary carcass and continue the mule. Laying back down at the side of the ring, Levy suffered until agony from what appeared to be a dislocated arm, which he held in his left hand, while the Spook, who had been a Red Sox fan, counted the count of 20.

Undoubtedly the Jewish born, 235-pounder rose to his feet, crawled around the ring by hanging onto the lower strand of rope only to collapse into the unconscious arms of the Spook's assistants. Finally after grunting and groaning for the benefit of the crowd, Levy took his bow and left for his dressing room.

During his four minutes in the ring, the quivering of human flesh showed grapple fans that considering his size he was as agile as a kitten. Able to kick his height of six feet, Levy relied largely on a stomach built for fighting. The Spook, the masked wrestler, counted off the time of Levy's one off the floor, but finally succeeded in getting the Bostonian by pulling both ropes from beneath him.

Levy down on the mat but once during his stay in the ring, once crawled bear fashion through the ropes and then rose to continue the tilt. The big boy, a most effective method of scrambling came when he rolled over the Spook and then charged in full speed to land body blows with his own full tilt.

Mat fans who came largely to see the quarter-ton collection of colors might have been disappointed at Levy's performance, but not after the program, which brought the clash between Hollywood's Ted Travis and Ken Hollis of Alliquippa, N. M. The pair of eastern brawlers battled to a 30-minute draw. Hollis taking the first fall in 20 minutes and Travis the second in 34.

The match left rougher as it progressed starting merely as a two-man game, fight and winding up as a tough, a gashouse maul as fans here have seen in a long time. Travis, the former champion, mixed a big portion of unadorned dirt with his holds on Hollis but even so he couldn't do better than hold the New Mexican to a draw. After refusing to take the first round by disqualification for Travis' low head bump, Hollis slugged the brown-skinned Californian to the point that applied a body slant and shoulder press to take the
